Sabrina - X7 Years Old - High Schooler
I clearly remember that her costume and personality in the anime version were completely different from her image from the first-generation games.
I love it when they try to maintain a poker face but are still a little bit embarrassed.
I think that the brutality of the World Leaders Tournament was meant to make everyone realize the real power of Gym Leaders. And I want to draw Sabrina in her Pokéstar Studios costume.

Nice to meet you, it's been a while. I'm xxzero.
When I saw that they were planning to release X and Y, I thought that I wanted to draw something from Pok○mon, and when I saw that Misty was in the anime ending, it turned into a book about Misty instead of X and Y. And Jewelpet too. I think I'll draw something about X and Y after I've bought them.

I couldn't draw all the requests I received on Twitter, so I decided to draw a compilation next time.

On a completely unrelated note,
I'm very grateful for the many proposals I received to write robot manga.
I'm currently giving my all to writing the story. I find this to be very difficult.

Well, thank you very much for having bought this book.
I'm trying to work on my books seriously everyday.
